A car, speeding from the castle in the wrong lane...?

Original Text by Manon Lennox

She's a foreigner, it seems.

We found an Australian passport.

Jessica Devlin, 29 years old.

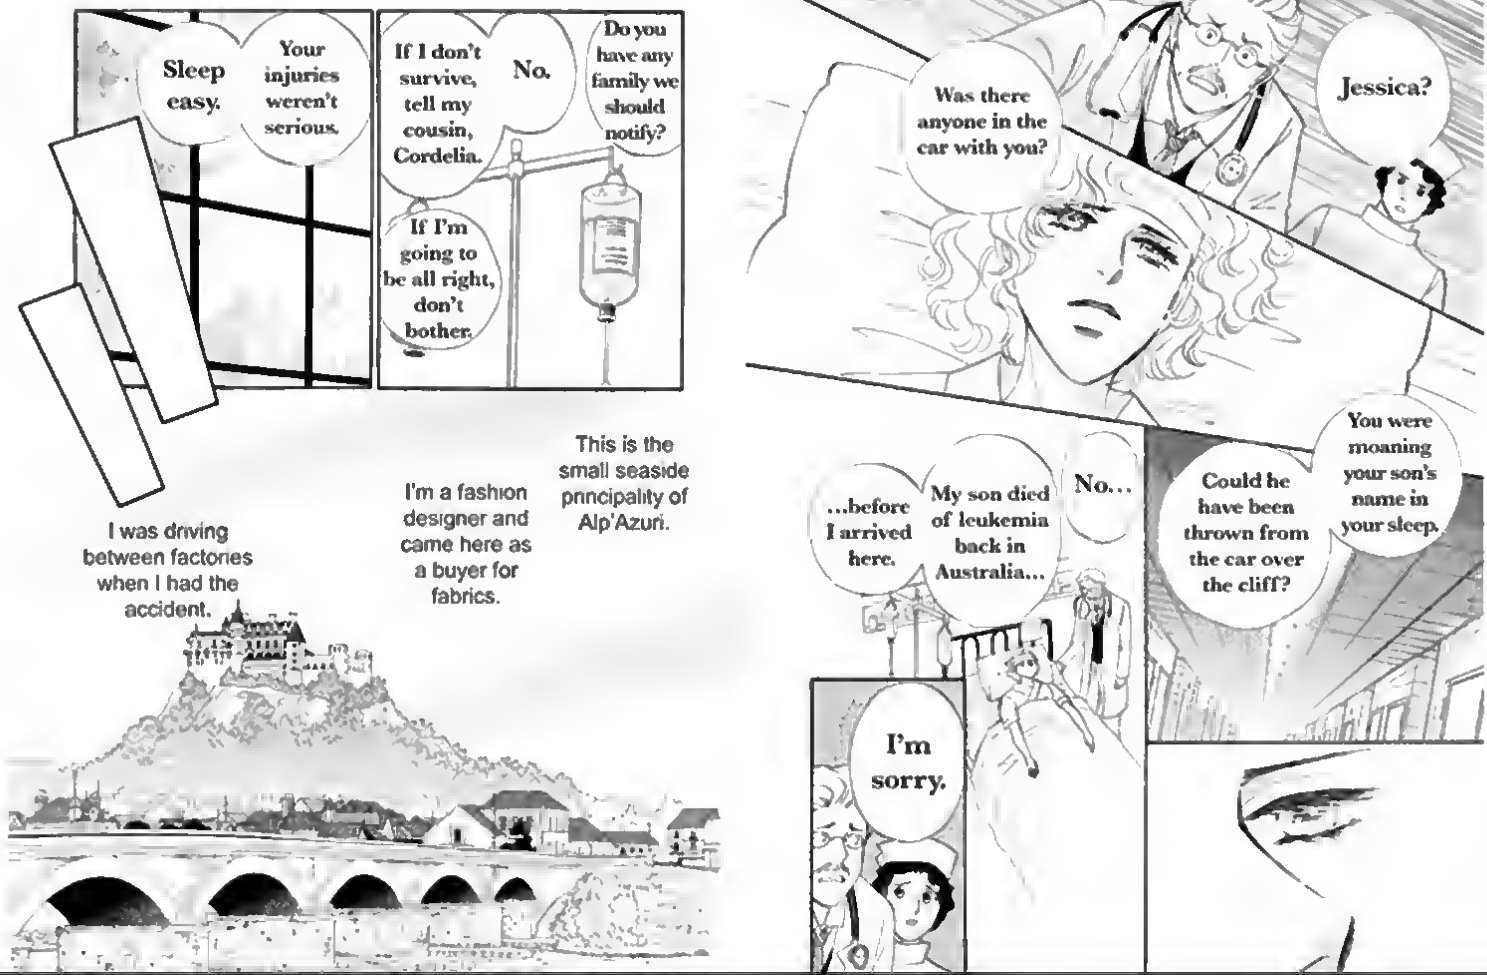
The driver that she hit swerved into the cliff face, preventing the unthinkable.

Sarah's car fell into the canyon.

She died instantly.

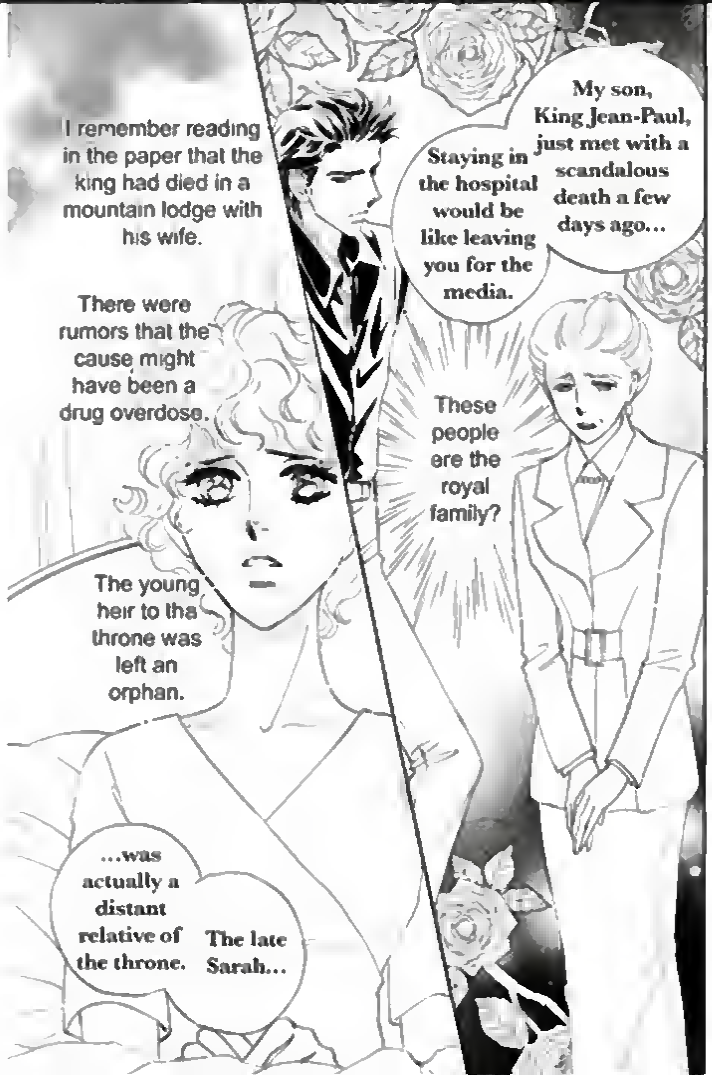
Driving drunk at that speed was practically suicide.

I hava Sebastian, so i'm not scared at all!"
I'll be okay, Mommy! I'm a tough boy!
"Mommy... ...please don't cry."
Sava my Dominic!"
"Doctor... You hava to sava him!
"Your son's advanced leukamia only gives him a few months to liva. I'm very sorry."
"This situation is too difficult.
"Darling! Wait!
Why would you want a divorce at a time like this?"
You can take over control of the company."



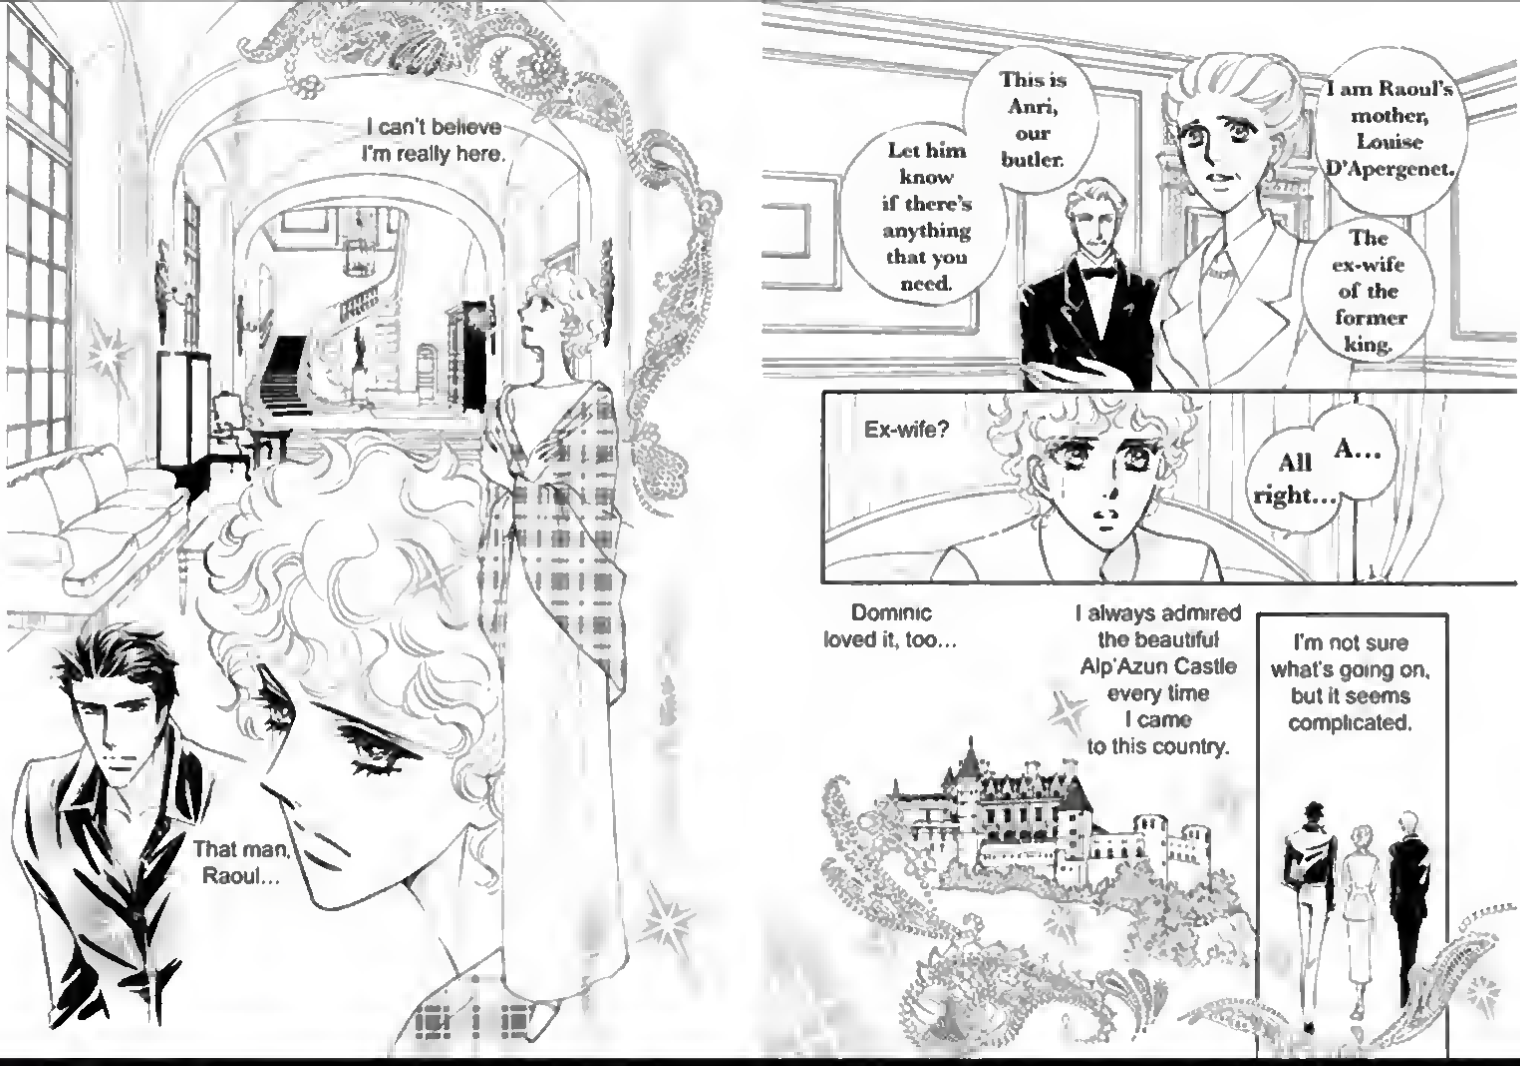
Sleep easy.
Your injuries weren't serious.
If I don't survive, tell my cousin, Cordelia.
No.
Do you have any family we should notify?
If I'm going to be all right, don't bother.
Was there anyone in the car with you?
Jessica?
You were moaning your son's name in your sleep.
Could he have been thrown from the car over the cliff?
No...
My son died of leukemia back in Australia...
...before I arrived here.
I'm sorry.
This is the small seaside principality of Alp'Azuri.
I'm a fashion designer and came here as a buyer for fabrics.
I was driving between factories when I had the accident.

I'm the fiancé of the late Sarah, who died in the accident.
My name is Raoul Louis d'Apergenet.
We were supposed to be married tomorrow.
Married?
Are you awake?
You've been sleeping for a long time.
Where am I? This isn't the hospital.
I only saw the woman driving toward me for an instant...
...but now she's dead.
Where am I?
Who are you?
Jump

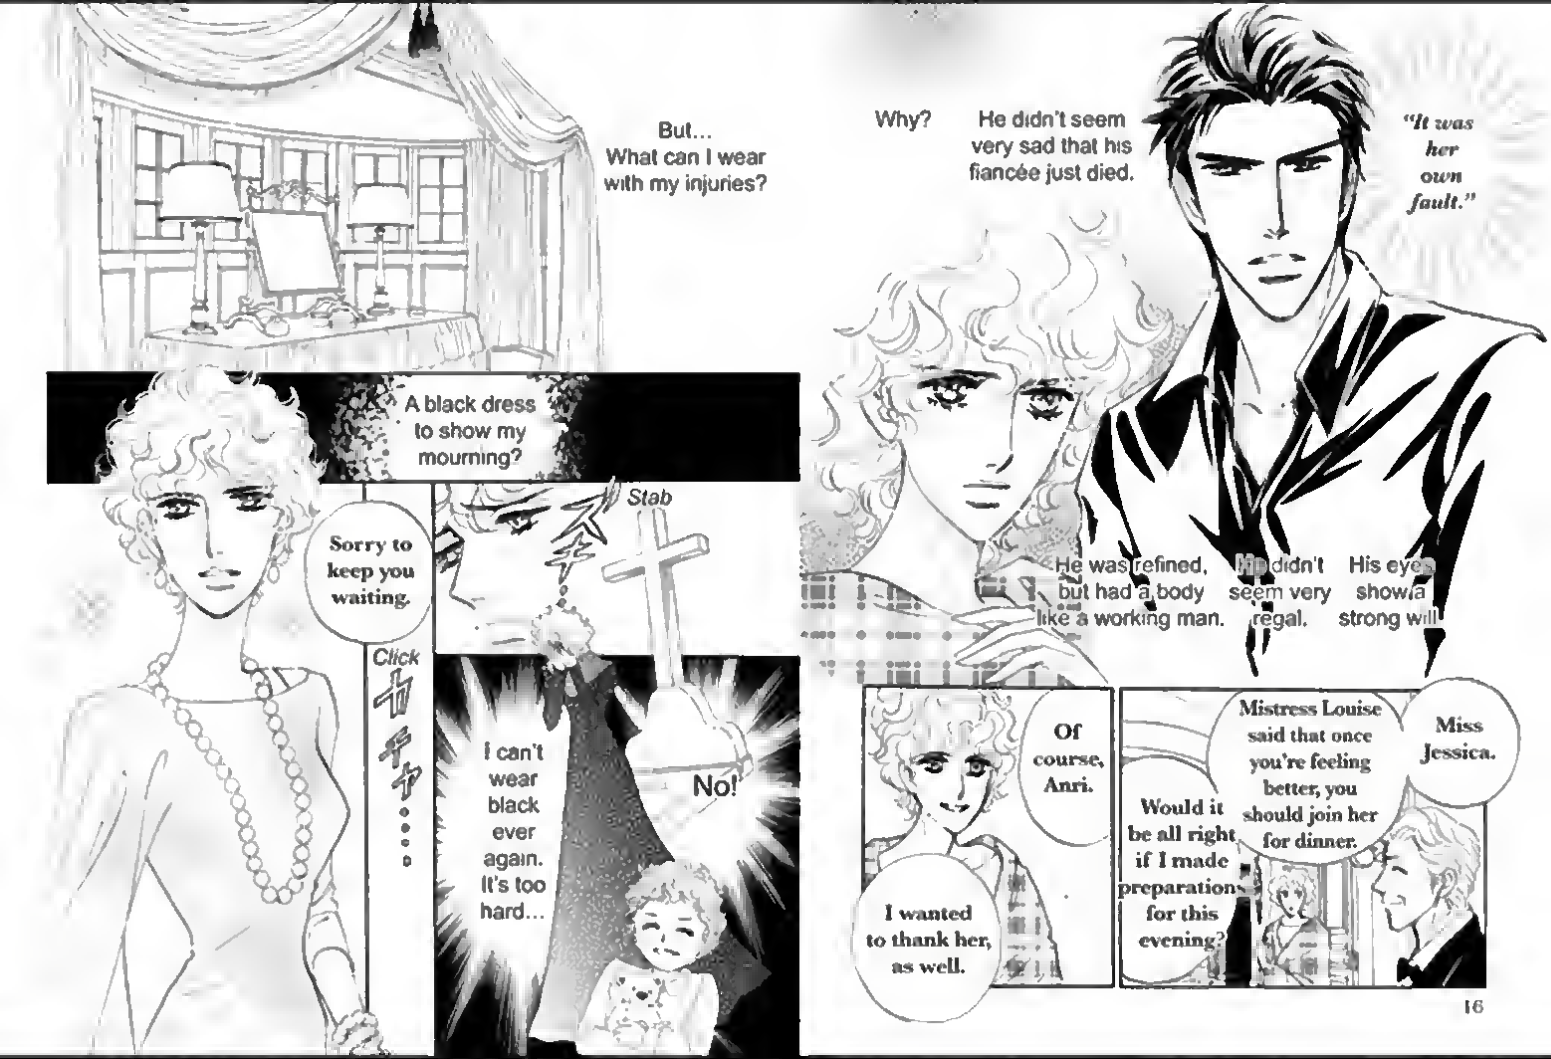


I remember reading in the paper that the king had died in a mountain lodge with his wife.
There were rumors that the cause might have been a drug overdose.
The young heir to tha throne was left an orphan.
...was actually a distant relative of the throne.
The late Sarah...
Staying in the hospital would be like leaving you for the media.
My son, King Jean-Paul, just met with a scandalous death a few days ago...
These people ere the royal family?

I'm not blaming you.
Sarah was driving drunk.
It was her own fault.
I want you to spend your recovery here, in this castle.
Oh, my God!
I killed your bride...!
What castle?
Here. This is Alp'Azuri Castle.
Mother.
Raoul is the castle's regent now.



I can't believe I'm really here.
That man, Raoul...
Let him know if there's anything that you need.
This is Anri, our butler.
I am Raoul's mother, Louise D'Apergenet.
The ex-wife of the former king.
Ex-wife?
All right...
A...
Dominic loved it, too...
I always admired the beautiful Alp'Azun Castle every time I came to this country.
I'm not sure what's going on, but it seems complicated.



But... What can I wear with my injuries?
A black dress to show my mourning?
Sorry to keep you waiting.

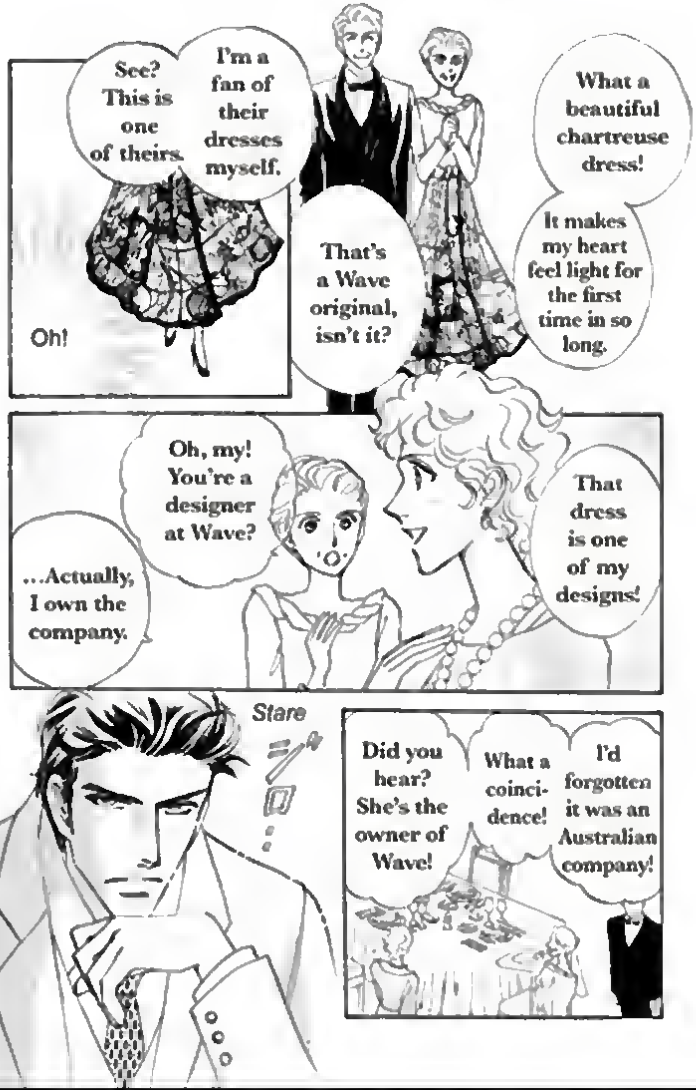
No!
I can't wear black ever again. It's too hard...
Why?
He didn't seem very sad that his fiancée just died.
"It was her own fault."
He was refined, but had a body like a working man.
He didn't seem very regal.
His eyes show a strong will.
Of course, Anri.
I wanted to thank her, as well.
Would it be all right if I made preparations for this evening?
Mistress Louise said that once you're feeling better, you should join her for dinner.
Miss Jessica.



Oh!
See? This is one of theirs.
I'm a fan of their dresses myself.
That's a Wave original, isn't it?
What a beautiful chartreuse dress!
It makes my heart feel light for the first time in so long.
...Actually, I own the company.
Oh, my! You're a designer at Wave?
That dress is one of my designs!
Stare
Did you hear? She's the owner of Wave!
What a coinci-dence!
I'd forgotten it was an Australian company!

Gulp
I almost didn't recognize you.
Good... You seem much better.
...but his hands are large and rough.
Your legs must still be weak.
Sway
He definitely looks more regal when he's formally dressed...
Oh...

...my cousin, Baron Marseille.
Jessica, allow me to introduce ...
Marseille!
Ah! You're that woman driver who killed Sarah!
Jessica?
You'll have to be out by Monday.
You understand, Raoul?
Can't you see that we're eating dinner?
Ow!
Grab
Louise and Raoul are here trying to take over the country, and...
What do you mean?
Thanks to you, the crown and this castle are going to be mine.
I'm in your debt, Jessica.
I was here to buy fabric.
Alp' Azuri's textiles are famous all over the world.
He's looking at me like a liar or a scam artist.
I suppose that's only natural.
Are you here on a holiday, Miss CEO?
They'll have to give up the castle soon, anyway.
I don't care!
Slam
We have guests...!
Baron Marseille! Please wait!

How can it not have anything to do with me?
Baron Marseille said that it was because of the accident I was in!
What did he mean?
.....
...I'll tell you a story to get you on your way.
My brother, Jean-Paul, the king, died of a drug overdose, leaving his son, Edouard, an orphan.
My mother was worried about her young grandson becoming the heir and wanted me to take up his duties as second in line to the crown.

You're aware that I am a master of the oriental martial arts?

Master Raoul is the castle's steward until Monday.
What do you think you're doing to you betters, butler?
Anri!
いたっ!
Owww!

It has nothing to do with you, as a foreigner. You should go home.
This is the royal family's problem.
Raoul!

.....
You have to give up the castle...?

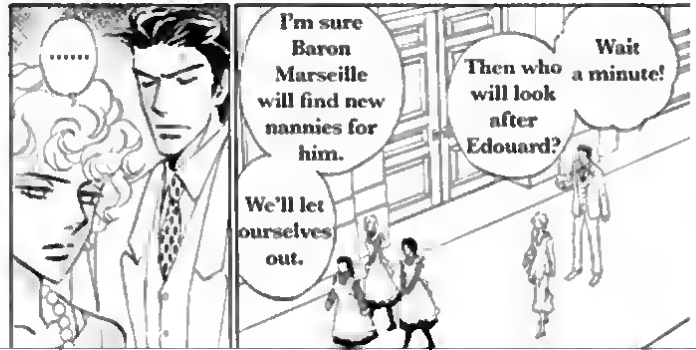
Shh!
What's the matter?
I thought I heard a child crying.
This dire situation is all because of my accident...
Jump
His family has no love for the heir.
All they want is the castle and title.
I want to stop them... but it's too late.

Sarah and her family were only too happy to inherit the crown's fortunes...
...But the law in this country states that an unmarried man cannot act as regent.
That's why I agreed to a rushed wedding with Sarah, a distant relative, on the condition it only be for appearances' sake.
With myself single, Marseille will automatically become regent as the third in line to the crown.
...but that hope disappeared in the accident.
That will be on Monday.

Raoul...
...I may be a foreigner, and not royalty...
...but I can't leave a crying child alone!
Take me to his room!

What? You're quitting?
Edouard, the heir?
Edouard...!

Seeing as how there's no guarantee that we'll still be paid after Monday.
We are resigning our service to Master Edouard, as of today.



.....
I'm sure Baron Marseille will find new nannies for him.
We'll let ourselves out.
Then who will look after Edouard?
Wait a minute!

What is all this? There aren't even any windows.
Eek!
It surprised me at first, as well.
It was my brother and his wife's idea.
This is the room they had made for their son, Edouard.
This is supposed to be a child's room?
It's so grotesque!
I agree.

He's genuinely angry.

Eeek!
It was like this after Mother and I returned to this country from France, after my brother's funeral.
Then why...?
Those nannies that had been looking after Edward since he was born kept him in here...
...and his former B-list actress wife, Cherri.
That's my brother, Jean-Paul ...
In some ways, they were victims of my father... No, of this country.
This was my father, the king.
He was the cause of all of this.

Jump
You were watching television by yourself?
Edouard.
His eyes look so empty.
He may be the heir to a throne, but he's the same age as Dominic was.
He's afraid... Of what?
By those nannies?
He must have been scolded when he got in their way.
It's tuned to a programon liposuction diets.
I don't think it was Edouard who was watching TV.
Edouard?
Where are you?

I'm sorry. I was clinging to you.

Why...
He's sad because he's been in the bottom of a suitcase for a long time.
Would you be his friend?
...But the repeatedly mended stitched-on smile never fades.
His mismatched eyes look blankly out at the world, as if tired of life
His nose is scratched from being scraped and one of his legs is too short...

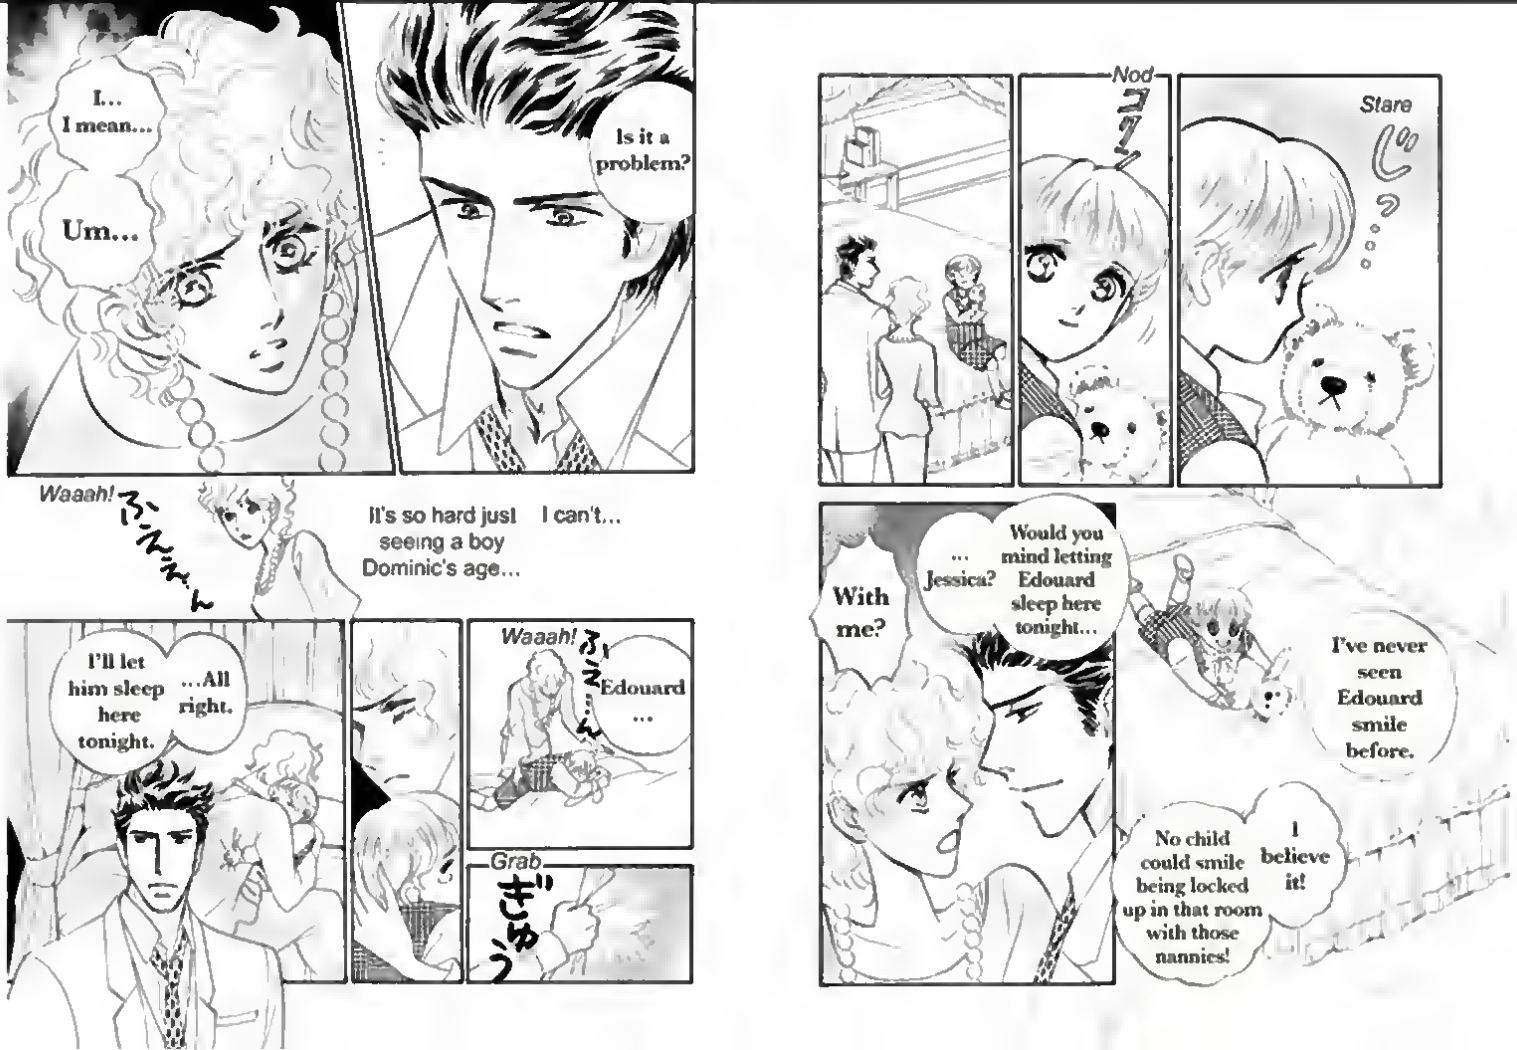
A friend?

There's a friend waiting for you there.
Would you like to come to my room?
Hello, Edouard.

Here he is.

Come on! Oink Oink

Here, have Uncle Raoul give you a piggyback ride!
A bear friend.
A piggy, what...?



I... I mean...
Um...
Is it a problem?
Waaah!
It's so hard just seeing a boy Dominic's age...
I can't...
I'll let him sleep here tonight.

No child could smile being locked up in that room with those nannies!

I couldn't do anything while his young life faded awey...

What?
I'm going to sleep here, too.
I remembered the doctor at the hospital mentioned you had just lost your son.
I'm sorry I asked this of you.
This way, you won't have to be alone with him.
I'll stay on my side of the bed.
Don't worry.
Raoul?

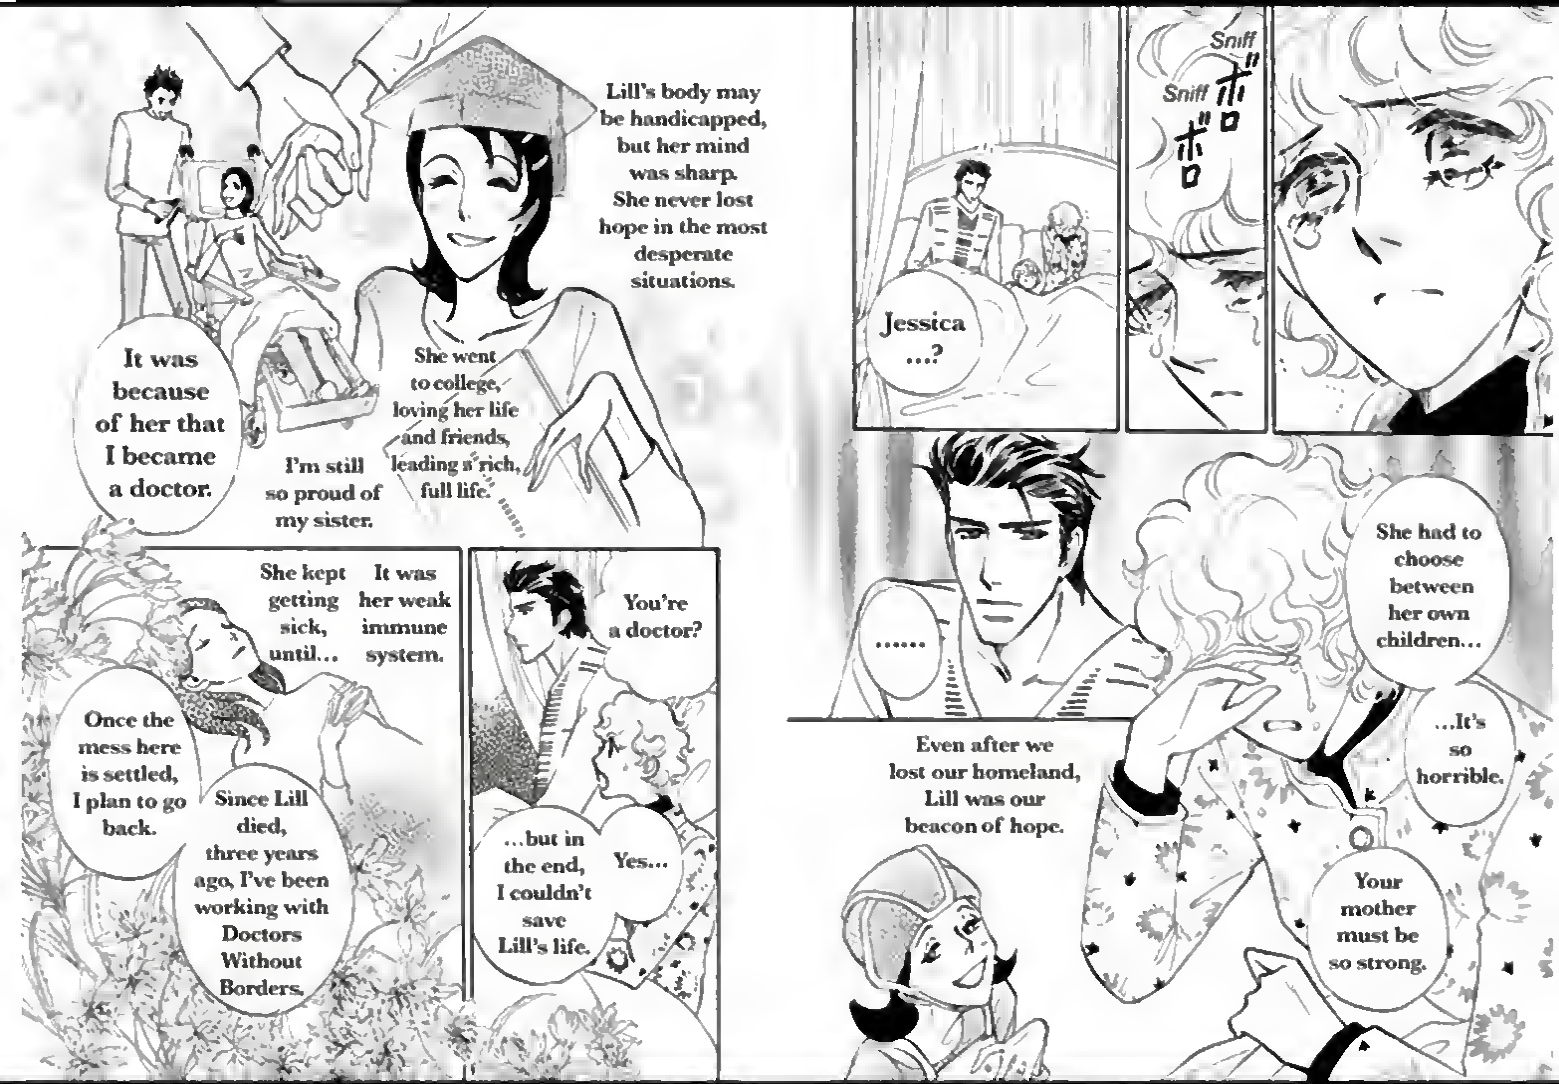
W-What are you doing here?

I see... So your husband abandoned you...
He sounds horrible.
He already had a new wife and baby by the time of Dominic's funeral.
I feel so much better now that there are three of us here.
Actually, I felt relieved that Raoul came.
My twin sister...
...who was born with cerebral palsy.
My father also abandoned a child.
I wasn't crying or anything!
I-I'm fine!
I'm fine by my self!
Then why are your eyes so red?
I-I just haven't been getting enough sleep!
Minus movies and popcorn, I'm afraid.
Just think of it as a slumber party with just the three of us.

We were banished.
Of course, she couldn't take my brother, the heir, with us.
My father forbade us from returning to our homeland or even seeing my brother again.
He came to hate my mother and became sick.
My brother felt abandoned, and fell into a deep depression.
That's why my mother blames herself that he turned to drugs and died of an overdose.
She feels that it was her fault.
He ordered my mother to put her in a facility outside the country.
My father was disgusted with Lill's handicap.
My mother refused to give up her child...
The only one who came with us was Anri, our butler.
We were six years old at the time.
She suffered over the decision, but chose to leave this country.



Lill's body may be handicapped, but her mind was sharp. She never lost hope in the most desperate situations.
She went to college, loving her life and friends, leading a rich, full life.
I'm still so proud of my sister.
It was because of her that I became a doctor.
It was her weak immune system.
She kept getting sick, until…
Once the mess here is settled, I plan to go back.
Since Lill died, three years ago, I've been working with Doctors Without Borders.
You're a doctor?
Yes…
…but in the end, I couldn't save Lill's life.
Jessica …?
Sniff

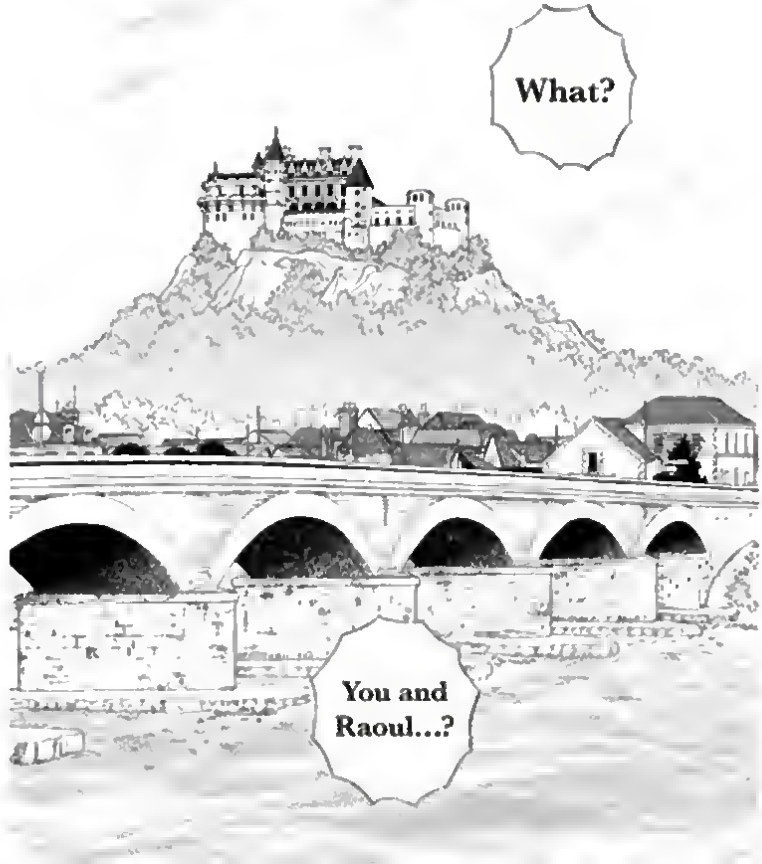
Even after we lost our homeland, Lill was our beacon of hope.
……
She had to choose between her own children…
…It's so horrible.
Your mother must be so strong.

Let's get married!
Then why don't we do it?
What?
I can handle the danger if it means burying the pain of losing Lill.
I still can't forgive myself for not being able to do more for her.
You have to risk your life and work in war zones...
I've heard that most people quit after a year because the work is so dangerous.
He's been with Doctors Without Borders for 3 years? No wonder he's so rugged!
Just because I'm unmarried, he's going to be handed over to Marseille...
I can't even protect this boy who's right in front of me.

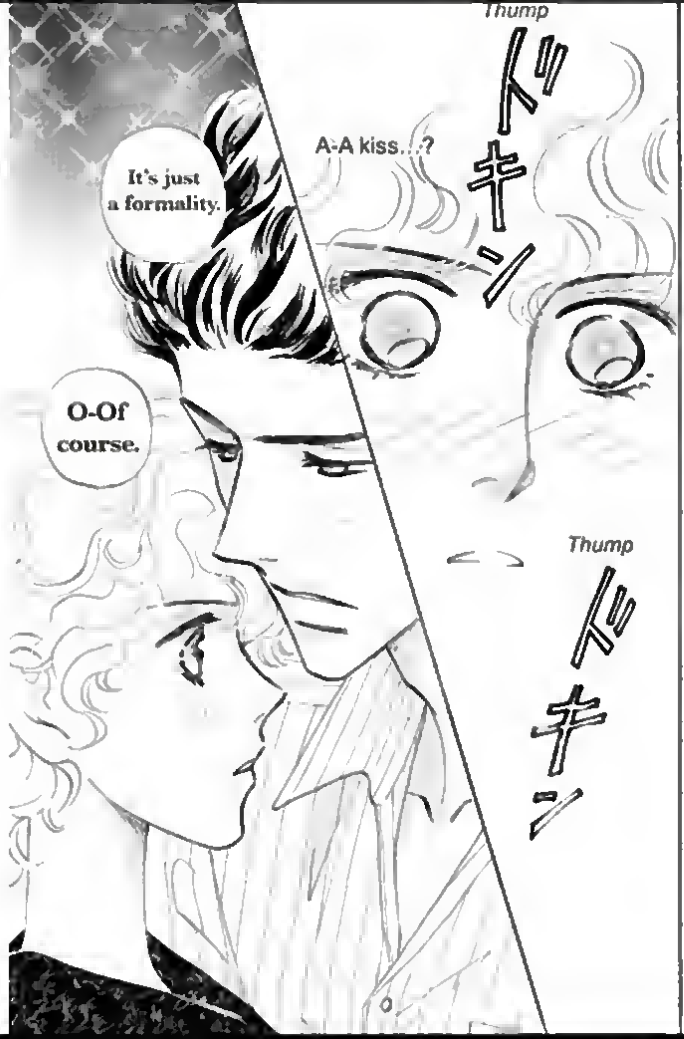
Oh, my...
Is this true?
Anri!
Dash
...so I proposed to him.
Raoul told me that even a divorced foreigner can become princess...
Once we're married on paper, he can become regent, and I'll go home to Australia.



What?
You and Raoul...?

Why did we have to sneak out in this truck?
The media are that much of a problem?
Yes. They'd pin us down if they saw us.
They seem to think that the return of my mother and me means we've come to take control of the country from them.
Look at the sad state of this country.
It's because Marseille and other ruling party members have been taking money away from the people to fatten their own wallets.
Thank you, Jessica...
Now I won't have to abandon Edouard, as well...
Go and get the marriage papers signed!
I called Judge Mark Lewiston in town.
We have to hurry!
Master Raoul! Miss Jessica!
Slam
Right. Thank you, Anri.
You can use the gardener's truck to sneak out the back.
The castle is surrounded by those media jackals.

We're here.
Your hand, my princess.
Who would have thought we'd both be getting married wearing jeans?
Oh?
I like the matching look.
Gulp
Are you sure about this?
Do you really want to be the princess of a country like this?
Why does his smile make my heart race?
Of course.



It's just a formality.
O-Of course.
A-A kiss...?

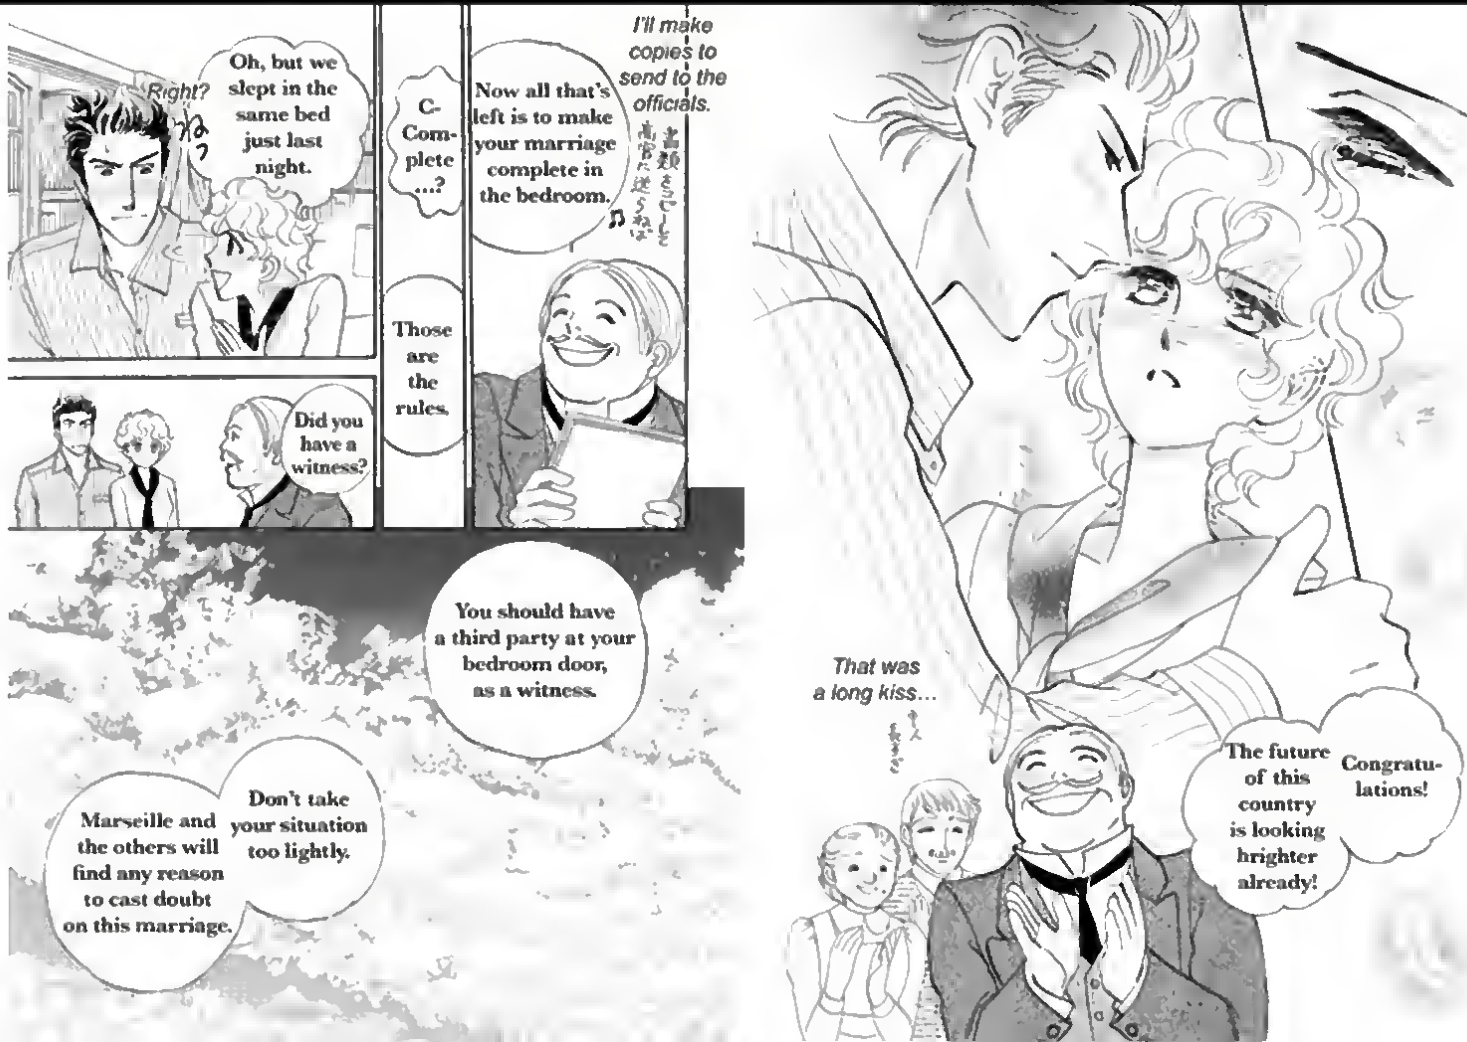
My maid and gardener will be your witnesses, all right?
Come on! Let's get this ceremony started.
I've been waiting for you since Anri called!
Raoul! It's good to see you again.
Of course, Judge Lewiston.
What?
え
Now, let's seal it with a kiss.
Stamp!
There!



Right?
Oh, but we slept in the same bed just last night.
C-Complete ...?
Those are the rules.
Now all that's left is to make your marriage complete in the bedroom.
I'll make copies to send to the officials.
Did you have a witness?
You should have a third party at your bedroom door, as a witness.
Don't take your situation too lightly.
Marseille and the others will find any reason to cast doubt on this marriage.
That was a long kiss...
The future of this country is looking brighter already!
Congratulations!

Different colors, too!
Twins!
They're the Suri breed!
They're not uncommon in this country.
...and our hands are full with their mother.
We don't have the money to look after them...
We can't afford to raise them.
But...
We're on our way to the market now.
Out of the way, miss. We're selling them.
Selling them? They're too young!

You never told me anything about that bedroom rule!

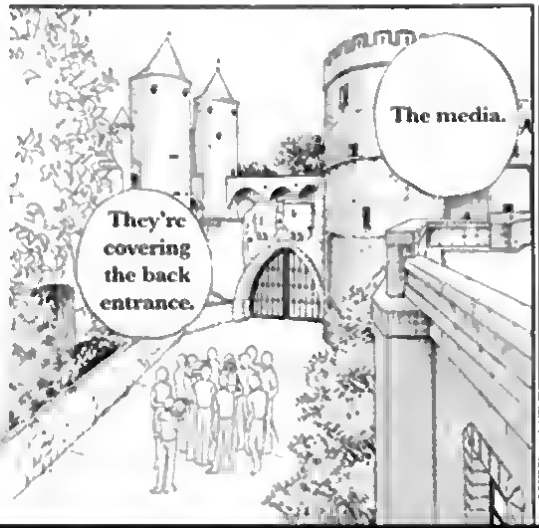
They write whatever they feel like, whether it's true or not.
Scav-engers...

Prince! We heard from officials that you've gotten married! Is it true?
Was Sarah's drunken driving the result of your affair with this woman?

Hey! It's Prince Raoul!
He's back!

Why is the new princess a foreigner?
Did you bring her into the country, Prince?

Raoul...
Your big, rough hands look like they could hold so much...



The media.
They're covering the back entrance.

Oh, no.
What is it?

I'm Prince Raoul's new wife from Australia, Jessica Devlin!
G'day, everyone!
Nice to meet you!
No jewelry?
No breast implants like the last princess?
That's the new princess?

She's so normal.
What is she doing with those alpacas?
On top of that, he's a rich doctor!
Naturally, I had to have him!
He's so handsome, I fell in love at first sight!
I met Raoul after that car accident I was in.
Well... I suppose we're married on paper, now...
Tell us the truth, Prince!
